Executive Summary:

The Fire Department desires to replace five cardiac monitors currently used by paramedics on fire suppression first response vehicles. The purchase is replacing the Physio-Control LifePak 12 ALS monitors. The current monitors are approaching the age of 10. The new cardiac monitors will bring the Fire Department in compliance with the Southern Fox Valley EMS System and will maintain equipment compatibility with Tri-City Ambulance.

In coordination with the City Purchasing Department, the City of St. Charles and TCA put the contract through the RFP process. Three proposals were received from Phillips Health Care, Physio-Control and Zoll Medical. Philips was selected by the review committee as the contractor most advantageous for the Fire Department after scoring the submitted responses in accordance with the RFP. Philips was the highest rated monitor and the low cost.

The project includes the following:

$ 51,627.62: five Heartstart MRX ALS Monitors (including trade-in).

$ 4,078.90: Additional equipment (See Quote).

$ 56,016.52: Total project cost.

Philips parts, and ensures clinicians have access to clinicians when necessary. It is designed to cover an entire facility, with affordable pricing and straightforward quoting.

*

Biomed Alliance - designed for the Philips-trained Biomed department that wants to limit parts and support costs, this agreement provides unlimited parts and technical support for all products covered. If the customer would like Philips field service engineers to back them up with their support efforts, a Second Response option is available to provide an onsite field service engineer for situations where the local biomed team is not able to resolve a problem after attempting repairs and receiving guidance remotely. This agreement also provides access to clinician support.

*

Bench Repair - provides bench repair services at a Philips repair facility. This service is great for products where software and hardware reliability and compatibility are critical and factory quality repairs ensure that repairs meet current manufacturing standards. A Performance Assurance option is available for products that require annual preventive maintenance.

*

Unit Exchange - Unit Exchange provides a fast replacement of failed or problem units. Under this agreement, customers can receive a new unit as soon as the next business day. This agreement is a good fit for products where time is critical and spare units are not available.

*

Comprehensive Onsite - With Comprehensive Onsite, Philips provides onsite support for covered equipment. This agreement is good for products and for care areas where technical expertise is critical and hands on Philips engineers will support the clinical and technical needs of the department. A Performance Assurance option is available for products that require annual preventive maintenance. This agreement also provides access to remote clinician support.

*

Software Maintenance Agreement - The software maintenance agreement includes Philips highest levels of remote support and includes software upgrades and remote clinician support. PTU Standard and PTU Basic are still key components of these agreements, with PTU Standard providing all installations and PTU Basic providing up to 2 installations over 5 years. Remote support includes new Remote Access services that enable Philips technical engineers to maximize system uptime through remote diagnostic tools and processes.
