PROFILE

Above all else, I am the father of two beautiful children, Anthony and Giavanna...and the husband to an amazing woman, Lisa, who is my best friend. Our family is my world.

I am a career driven individual with a thirst for knowledge and business dealings. I look to relate first, find common ground, and build relationships from there...if business can be done, then that's only icing on the cake, not the genuine intention. I like to think I know what people want, and that is simply respect, and an open ear willing to listen.

- "may you find inspiration in the big picture, but may you find love in the details..."
